

TEDCO: Maryland Technology Development Corporation

Leading Innovation to Market. TEDCO provides resources and connections that early stage technology and life science companies need to thrive in Maryland

Minority Business Development Agency

MBDA is an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce that promotes the growth of minority owned businesses through the mobilization and advancement of public and private sector programs, policies and research.

SCORE

The nation's largest network of volunteer, expert business mentors. A resource partner of the U.S. Small Business Administration, SCORE has helped more than 11 million entrepreneurs through mentoring, workshops, and educational resources.

Maryland Tech Council

The largest technology trade group serving the advanced technology and biotechnology communities of Maryland.

Small Business Development Center CEO Accelerator Program

The Maryland SBDC network provides sound advice, consulting, training, market and industry research, and support services to entrepreneurs and small businesses across the state. The SBDC Network is a partnership between the US Small Business Administration, the State of Maryland, and the University of Maryland , College Park

Maryland Procurement Technical Assistance Center

The Maryland Procurement Assistance Program was authorized by Congress to assist small businesses in the federal marketplace. The Maryland PTAC helps businesses prepare for and engage in the procurement process with federal, state and local government agencies.

Project Opportunity

Free entrepreneur training, education and coaching for veterans, active duty reservist and military spouses. Foundation funded program with in-kind support from EMPLOY PG and PGCEDC. Ongoing mentoring and counseling support services.

Maryland Women's Business Center

MWBC helps entrepreneurs start, sustain, and grow successful women-owned enterprises. To position businesses for profitability and long-term growth, we offer year-round training, counseling, access to resources and funding.

US Small Business Administration

The US Small Business Administration connects entrepreneurs with lenders and funding to help them plan, start and grow their business. (The SBA has provided training onsite at the PGCEDC including lean business canvas and boots to businesses programming.

Maryland Department of Commerce

The Maryland Department of department of commerce has developed new soft-landing tools to support PGCEDC and its efforts to attract international businesses, as well as industry and regional experts to support small business development.

Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development

DHCD provides funding and other resources to small businesses and maintains the database of opportunity zone project. Innovation Station is located within an Opportunity Zone.

University of Maryland at College Park

The University of Maryland is part of the University System of Maryland and houses the MIPs program and other research and development resources to support small businesses. The University also has related business incubator programs and supports the local WeWork co-working space.

Bowie State University

BSU is an HBCU within the University System of Maryland and supports an Entrepreneurship Academy for students and houses the Bowie Business Innovation Center. They also have a living/learning Innovation lab under development.

University of Maryland Global Campus

Located in Largo, Maryland, adjacent to PGCECC, the internationally acclaimed UMGC is part of the University System of Maryland. Faculty and staff work in partnership with PGCEDC to provide expertise and resources to Innovation Station including the support of a coaching program.

Prince George's Community College

The PGCC houses a host of resources and schools that foster entrepreneurs and financial literacy. They house a Culinary Arts Institute and an Innovation Hub. PGCEDC and the PGCC work together to support student entrepreneurs.

Maryland Manufacturing Extension Partnership

Part of a federally funded national program, the MMEP provides a variety of support services to Maryland manufacturers to connect them to resources and funding to foster the growth of the manufacturing sector in Maryland.